Algeria -- a nation traditionally dependent on gas -- is set to take significant strides in solar energy through two large-scale solar tenders with a combined capacity of 3 GW. This marks a shift for the country, where solar energy has been largely limited to remote Sahara villages and research projects.

The state owned utility for electricity and natural gas distribution in Algeria has signed 19 contracts with local and international companies to construct solar PV plants. In making the announcement recently, the government said the project to produce 3,000MW of solar PV energy is part of its Renewable Energy Development Programme.

To that end, Algeria has set a target of 22 gigawatts of renewable capacity by 2030, focusing on solar photovoltaic (13.5 GW), wind (5 GW), concentrated solar power (2 GW) and biomass (1 GW). These targets are ambitious but achievable, given Algeria's vast solar resources and the technical expertise that can be leveraged through international ...

Deming is one of the earliest factories in China specializing in the production of wind turbine controllers, solar controllers and inverters.
