

How do I get an Orc certificate?

All ORC certificates are managed and issued by your national ORC Rating Office. Click here to find detailed information on how to apply for an ORC certificate or learn more about the ORC Rating System. As the AGM draws to a close, we'd like to extend our heartfelt thanks to everyone who took part, both in-person and virtually.

What is Orc & why is it so popular?

ORC is the world's largest measurement-based rating system, with nearly 15,000 certificates expected to be issued by year's end to over 9000 boats racing in 41 countries. Its popularity is growing yearly, and the calendar of ORC championship events is already full for the next two years.

What's new in Orc this year?

Developments for ORC this year include a return in popularity of ORC championship events, a substantial recovery in the number of certificates, boats and participants nearly back to 2019 levels, introduction of new Non-Spinnaker certificates, and the beta testing of the new ORC Multihull rule at events in 2021 with an anticipated roll-out for 2022.

Are Orc Championships competitive?

ORC championship events continue to be popular and competitive, with high levels of participation and the highest-quality teams emerging on top after a combination of several inshore and offshore races. Individual races are competitive and often resolved only within seconds of corrected time.

An Organic Rankine Cycle (ORC) system is a closed thermodynamic cycle used for power production from low to medium-high temperature heat sources ranging from 80 to 400°C and for small-medium applications at any temperature level. The ORC technology allows for efficient exploitation of low-grade heat that otherwise would be wasted.

More than five decades since its inception, ORC has emerged as the world's preeminent measurement-based rating system, operating through its national rating offices. It has issued over 14,000 certificates to yachts across 45 countries, encompassing a diverse spectrum, from Sportboats to Superyachts and Multihulls.
